

University of Crete
 School of Philosophy
 Department of History and Archaeology

Provincial elites, rural relations and taxation in the seventeenth and eighteenth-century Balkans

Day conference

15 April 2019

Rethymno Campus

Rethymno, Greece

Department of History and Archaeology, room no. 56

Operational Programme
 Human Resources Development,
 Education and Lifelong Learning
 Co-financed by Greece and the European Union

Programme

12.30-13.00 Welcome – Conceptual framework

13.00-14.00 Lunch break

Chair: Nikos Sigalas (Paris)

14.00-15.00 Eleni Gara (Mytilene), Before ‘chiftlicization’: Private landownership in Veroia in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries

15.00-16.00 Maria Shusharova (Sofia), Elites, communities and patterns of taxation: The district of Rusçuk in the second half of the eighteenth century

16.00-16.30 Coffee break

Chair: Marinos Sariyannis (Rethymno)

16.30-18.30 Antonis Anastasopoulos, Stefanos Poullos, Yannis Spyropoulos (Rethymno), Local elites, taxation and “chiftlicization” in the eighteenth-century Ottoman Balkans: The case of Veroia. Goals, methodology, preliminary conclusions

18.30-19.00 Concluding discussion: Local politics and finances in the seventeenth and eighteenth-century Ottoman Balkans

19.00 Dinner

Participants

Antonis Anastasopoulos (University of Crete & Institute for Mediterranean Studies/FO.R.T.H.)

Eleni Gara (University of the Aegean)

Stefanos Poullos (University of Crete)

Marinos Sariyannis (Institute for Mediterranean Studies/FO.R.T.H.)

Maria Shusharova (Institute of Balkan Studies and Centre of Thracology, Bulgarian Academy of Sciences)

Nikos Sigalas (CETOBaC)

Yannis Spyropoulos (Institute for Mediterranean Studies/FO.R.T.H.)

The project in whose context the day conference takes place and is financed, is implemented through the Operational Program ‘Human Resources Development, Education and Lifelong Learning’ and is co-financed by the European Union (European Social Fund) and Greek national funds.

The project is carried out at the University of Crete.

Operational Programme
Human Resources Development,
Education and Lifelong Learning
Co-financed by Greece and the European Union

